

THE FIRST ANNUAL WILKES UNIVERSITY INTEGRATION BEE!

The first 2017 Integration Bee for Wilkes students: come to evaluate integrals and win $150, $100, or $50 as a prize!

When: Saturday, April 8th, 2017, at 10am

Where: Wilkes University, Darte Center for the Performing Arts, room 201

Who can participate: any undergraduate Wilkes student may enter. (You might need to know integration techniques covered in calculus class MTH 112 or its equivalent.)

Spectators are welcome. Come to support your integration bees!

To participate, please contact

- Sofya Chepushtanova (SLC 410, (570) 408-4868, sofya.chepushtanova@wilkes.edu),
- Karen Weyhenmeyer (SLC 416, (570) 408-4830, karen.veyhenmeyer@wilkes.edu),
- any math faculty you know to obtain a registration form! The registration will end on April 1st.

Complete rules will be available soon at:

http://chepusht.mathcs.wilkes.edu/integration_bee_2017

Sponsored by the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science, Wilkes University, and professor David Mahalak